As the regular visitors to the site (both of you) know, I've been learning to draw this year, well I -finally- finished the group sketch I started at the Dole pineapple booth at WDW.

Overall, I'm pleased with it, seeing how 1) I can't draw Neltara's face to please me EVER and 2) this is the busiest sketch I've done.

The characters are to scale, so its cool to see.
